South Bay vote is Tues

SOUTH BAY—A total of five candidates will be vying with each other Tuesday for two available seats in the city election, with one new commissioner guaranteed but the possibility of a runoff still looms in that race.

The winner of the Group One race between incumbent Wilbur Ray Sullivan and challenger Thomas Adams will be sworn in during the regularly scheduled city commission meeting which will immediately follow the election.

If one of the three candidates seeking the seat being vacated by Mayor-Commissioner Billy Wells gains a clear majority of votes, that candidate will also be sworn in. If the Group Two race is forced into a runoff, that election will be held Tuesday, Sept. 11.

The three candidates seeking Wells' seat are Doris Davis, who was defeated by Wells in his last bid for re-election in 1977, former city commissioner Howell Goodbread and political newcomer Sammy Rogers.

City Clerk Virginia Walker said there is a total of 919 voters qualified to cast their ballots Tuesday. The polling place will be in the commission chambers of the city hall.

Storm stops hearts, Brahmans

By DEAN JONES
BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central girls basketball team stormed back from a nine point deficit with three and a half minutes left Tuesday night to stop hearts and the highly touted Okeechobee team, who left regional championship and set up a sectional game in Hallandale Saturday.

After trailing the Brahmans for almost three quarters, Linda Joy Burroughs scored on a jump shot with less than 30 seconds of play left to send the Lady Raiders into a one-point lead and bring down the house in an eruption of applause from a packed house in the Glades Central gym.

Freshman Gloria Stewart added the 50th point on one of two free throws as time ran out and a delirious crowd poured onto the court to celebrate the local girls' Region 7AAA championship as the defeated Okeechobee girls sank into their chairs and wept.

It was a game in which the Lady Raiders maintained a two-point lead throughout the first quarter, lost the momentum early in the second period and trailed by as much as nine minutes during the game, once with only three and a half minutes left in the game.

The Glades Central girls were shooting cold through the first half, making only ten of 36 shots from the field, and continued with the same type of performance through the third period and the first half of the final period of play but they

TV improvements promised

Another month's delay in installing Home Box Office (HBO) was acknowledged by Jones Intercable Regional Manager Tom Crusan Tuesday but he said Atlanta's popular, Channel 17 would be piped into Glades homes by Saturday, with HBO to follow the last week of March.

Crusan met with the Belle Glade City Commission Tuesday afternoon and the Pahokee City Council that evening to bring them up to date with the company's takeover from Southeast Cablevision and explain why HBO wasn't available this week, as had been promised in December.

The cablevision company's representatives had promised at that time the commercial-free service would be available, along with Channel 17, by the last week in February.

Crusan, the newly named area manager of the company, said it wasn't possible to meet the February deadline because of technical problems but HBO would be available for a one-week free trial period to all subscribers as of March 25.

He said the company would then make the service available through converters on April 1.

As a gesture of good faith, however, Crusan said Channel 17 would be made available Saturday, taking over the Channel three slot, which now shows a picture of weather instruments while transmitting Country 95 FM radio station programming on the audio.

The Pahokee City Council decided at its last regular meeting to ask Crusan to appear to answer complaints about the system. Belle Glade City Manager Robert Sanders said he asked Crusan to meet with the Belle Glade commissioners after finding out HBO wouldn't be available until the last week in March.

Belle Glade Commissioner Tom Altman told Crusan he and his fellow commissioners have been told improvements were on the way by cablevision representatives for months and they'd passed the word along to city residents who'd been complaining about the service.

"I think we did a good selling job," Altman said, "but now, every time we pass the word along, people just laugh at us."

Crusan said the major problem for delays in improvements since

Dragons win games

BELLE GLADE—A team of Fire Breathing Dragons from Gove Elementary School, junior high students from Glades Day School and Glades Central Raiders were the big winners Tuesday in the third edition of academic games to be held in the Glades area.

The teams beat out competition from 150 students from the fourth through 12th grades who were participating in a game called Equations at the Belle Glade National Guard Armory Tuesday afternoon.

This was the third time the games had been held in the West Area and the winners are expected to go on next Wednesday to games being held in Broward County. Winners there may get a chance to go to a series of national games to be held in Atlanta later in the year.

The students and sponsors were told there is even a chance the games will go international in the near future, throwing open the possibility local students could compete with students from around the world.

Just as the United States has been holding national games, for instance, it was pointed out that "kingdom games" are being held this year in Saudi Arabia.

Individual winners at Tuesday's games were Kim Lealand of Glades Central in the senior division, Janet Clayton of Glades Day in the middle school division and Keith Crumbley of Gove in the elementary division.

The members in the Fire Breathing Dragons were Keith Crumbley, Will Taylor, Thomas Burrus, Sherrie Miller and Angie

City employee honored today

BELLE GLADE—Long-time city employee William W. "Bill" Abel was to have been honored in a surprise unveiling of a plaque he helped mount on a stone he helped set at 4 p.m. today in front of the city garage.

Abel's friend of almost 20 years, Buildings and Grounds Superintendent Ron Snyder, was given the job of erecting the stone in front of the gate to the city and Public Works Department grounds some time ago and enlisted Abel's help to put in place.

"It's sort of a joke," Snyder said this week. "He's been helping all along. He helped lay the foundation He helped sling the stone in Clewiston to haul it to the city. He helped clean it up and put it in place and tomorrow morning (today), he's going to put the plaque on the stone but he still doesn't know what it's all about."

"What it's all about" is the city commission's way of honoring the man who came to work for the city 22 years ago last Wednesday at the request of late Garage Superintendent Tom Pennington after repairing a piece of heavy equipment for Pennington.

Abel has since retired, once eight years ago when he turned 65 and again last year at the age of 72. He can still be seen any weekday working on any number of jobs around town with his two helpers.

The city commission instructed City Manager Robert Sanders last year to erect a memorial stone at the city garage. The plaque was delivered last week and cites Abel's, "relentless service and contributions toward the development, growth, preservation and general welfare of the City of Belle Glade and its citizens."

The plaque was mounted on a natural piece of sandstone, donated by Ridgill, Inc. of Clewiston, which weighs in at 4,550 pounds and is pierced in the center by what

BACKTALK

This week Bar-talk asked people what kind of store or business they would like to see move into the Glades area.

Lorena Diamond, Belle Glade-A big discount store. One day K-Mart or Zayres.

Esther Mayle, Belle Glade-I like to go see a big bazaar where they have nutcrane, beads, and all kinds of arts and crafts.

Jesse Lowe, Belle Glade-We need a good car part place. Now you have to order and sometimes it takes six months getting them.

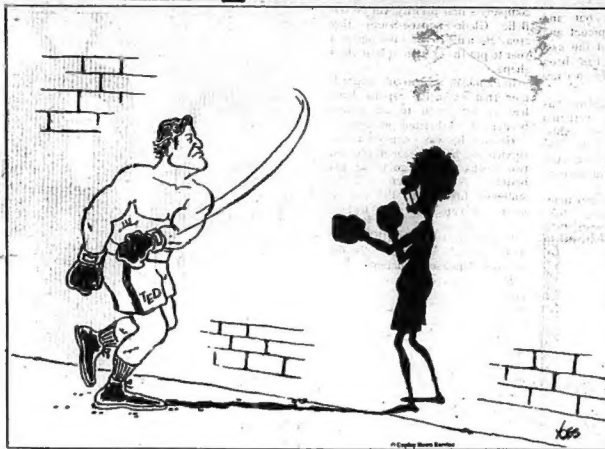

Leonardo Rodriguez, Pahokee-Something like K-Mart. A large store where prices are cheaper and there's a variety of things like clothes and auto parts.

Betty Feste, Belle Glade-I'd like a Vails Department Store. They carry a variety of stock and the prices are reasonable.

Thomas Jefferson once smuggled rice seed out of Italy for planting in South Carolina and Georgia.

Uranium tax is contradictory

The Florida Phosphate Council doesn't have the best track record in the state for acting in the best interests of the people living in the state but the council's arguments against a proposed tax on uranium makes sense.

The 10 per cent severance tax on the extraction of uranium from phosphate is part of Governor Bob Graham's recently released legislative program for the conservation of energy and would be in addition to the existing 10 per cent severance tax on solid minerals.

The proposal in Governor Graham's program is that the tax would be one of the sources to feed the proposed Florida Energy Trust Fund and is only one of several questionable areas in the program.

There would be room for argument against the tax even if one were to ignore the difference between what the governor says it will yield and what the council says it will yield.

The governor claims the tax will yield $13.2 million in 1980-81 and the industry figures indicate the figure would be closer to $5.4 million and that's considered 10 per cent of the total output, not of the net profit.

Aside from that, however, the governor's plan purports to have the goal of solving energy shortages expected to get more and more severe over the next several years and it's hard to see how a tax on uranium, tacked onto the existing phosphate tax, is going to serve as an incentive for the production of more uranium to fuel nuclear reactors, to provide more energy which would otherwise be fueled by imported oil.

This would seem particularly true in light of the industry's claim that more uranium was already being extracted from Florida-mined phosphate in other states than in facilities located in Florida.

There are other proposals designed to raise income to pay for the energy trust fund which are also questionable on various grounds. These proposals include a windfall severance tax on oil and gas, an oil transport tax of four cents per imported barrel (there is already a two cent per barrel tax set up to clean up possible oil spills) which would be paid by Florida consumers, and a surcharge for speeding violations of $25 for any motorist fined for traveling in excess of 55 miles per hour with an additional $2 surcharge per mile for fines of more than 64 miles an hour.

That surcharge would be in addition to the amount fined for speeding and could quickly put the price of a speeding ticket up to about half an average person's weekly income... a little trick that failed a few years ago.

Parts of the energy program make sense and should be pursued, such as the proposal to drop the state tax on gasoline to encourage the use of the hybrid fuel.

But it doesn't make sense to drop all the state's tax to encourage the production of a fuel which still uses up to 90 per cent petroleum fuel while tacking on an additional tax on the production of another fuel which doesn't even use oil.

Nor does it make sense to increase the tax on imported oil when the program starts with the thesis that by 1990, there'll be a 25 per cent shortfall of energy sources.

The governor, and whoever his advisors were, need to rethink the entire proposal.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

We would appreciate it if you could run the following article in your newspaper, as there may be some former 98th members in your area. Thank you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Walter Bolling, Jr.

Secretary-Treasurer

The 98th Bomb Group (H) Veterans Association will hold a reunion in Miami at the Ramada Inn Airport from Oct. 20-23, 1980.

The 98th Bomb Group (H) formed at Barksdale Army Air Field in Feb. 1942. One month later, the 98th was sent to Fort Myers and set up camp about four miles out of town.

It was the first army unit to arrive at Fort Myers and was given the job of beginning to build an airfield. Six weeks later the group moved to Lakeland and was the first army unit there also.

They set up tents about nine miles from town and went to work building the army airfield. The first, sandy-pink B-24 bomber arrived in Lakeland, the same bombers which were later used in the Sahara desert.

Five months after its formation, the 98th left Lakeland on July 3, 1942, for Fort Dix, N.J. and then on to New York for overseas on July 16.

The 98th arrived in Egypt and was attached to the British 8th Army and was given the job of cutting Rommel's supply lines by bombing shipping and harbor installations, airfields and railroad marshalling yards in Libya, Tunisia, Sicily, Italy, Crete and Greece.

Two of the most famous missions flown by the desert pink B-24 Liberators were the attack on the railroad marshalling yards in Rome and the low level raid on the Ploesti oil fields in Rumania in 1943.

The 98th was the first Heavy Bomb Group to operate from the European mainland. When the 98th returned to the U.S. in 1945, it was given the new H-29 bombers, and these saw action in the Korean conflict.

The 98th Bomb Group (H) Veterans Assn. is made up of veterans from both WWII and the Korean conflict. Members who want to attend the reunion or join the 98th Vet. Assn. can contact W.H. Bolling, Rt. 3 Box 67, Gonzales, La. 70737.

Dear Editor:

The Pahokee High School Band returned Wednesday, Feb. 20th, from a trip to the Mardi Gras that will remain a cherished memory for these one hundred students for the rest of their lives. Without the support of the Glades citizens this trip would not have been possible. When the invitation was announced at the Band banquet last May, there was never any doubt that the trip would be made. The Glades people are noted for the support they give to projects they feel are worthwhile.

It took a lot of effort from many people to raise the funds, to organize the trip, and to be sure the students were chaperoned properly while there. To all of these people we say a hearty "thank you." To Nola Nagler, the band's "Super Mom," who headed the fund raising drive and the planning, very special thanks from Pahokee High.

We are very proud of the showing the band made in New Orleans. We are also very proud of the reports received from the chaperones of the excellent behavior, good manners, and consideration shown by the band students.

Mr. Ollie Davis, our band director, must be highly commended for his talent, his long hours of work, and his enthusiasm in preparing the band to be a group that is capable of performing in such an excellent manner.

Band members, Director and Chaperones, We know you're weary, worn to the bone. But we give you a clap after clap. For you put Pahokee on the map.

To all the others who gave work and money, Our heartfelt thanks - you're really a honey. Of all the towns here in the "West." We all know Pahokee's the BEST. By Elaine Simms.

Respectfully,

/s/Doris C. Lane

Don't know when I've ever run into such a rash of ice hockey fans as the first part of this week. I think it began sometime around 1 p.m. Sunday... just about the time we found the U.S. of A had produced the best bunch of big Dooleys around.

Somewhat, I don't think they were all just hiding in the closet waiting for some reason to come out. Nah. Looks more like they were the same as me and didn't know a high check from a low Slovene.

I mean, up until Friday night. I always thought a puck was just the root word for what we do when you're ready to kiss some sweet young thing. An ice puck was a frigid philanderer.

Didn't that win over the Russian super skaters just do your heart all kinds of good? I don't think it really sank in when they interrupted the programming about a quarter till eight to flash the word about the upset.

It wasn't until later that night that the enormity of it all got through to me. Jim McKay probably said it best when he said it was like if American football were suddenly entered as an event in the olympics and a bunch of Canadian school boys should beat the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Come Sunday, I was sitting at home nursing a cold that was in a lot better shape than I was but when the Craig and Company whupped up on the crew from Finland, I came down with a rash of telephonitis and just had to call a couple friends to see if they were converted ice hockey fans like I was.

But the beautiful thing, so far as I was concerned, was the way everybody just took off on the gold medal win.

Call it ingenuism, patriotism or a fever of national pride but that was the kind of shot in the arm you only see once in too long a while.

From the description of what happened in that Lake Placid restaurant, when everybody spontaneously "Took a kind of thing like a that I've ever perfectly heard was the launch of the Apollo 11."

Come a time like that and it doesn't matter how many misguided characters make fun of the flag wavers, they join right in with all the rest of us up who still love America, whether we come out and wear it on our sleeves or just keep quiet about that lump in our throats when we hear the Star Spangled Banner.

If Herb Brooks was wrong when he told President Carter that the win proved we live under a better system, well, you're just gonna have to prove it to me.

It may not seem logical at first but stop and think about it. How many times have other systems such as the Soviet Union or Nazi Germany back in 1936 ever come up with any kind of team in any kind of sport that did what Brooks and his team did?

Seven months ago, those 20 guys hadn't even heard of one another but when the games were over, they'd beaten what can only be called professionals who've played for years as teams.

Tell that to someone who don't care and listen to him scream.

And it don't matter how loud he screams, he probably won't match the screams of the crowds who were on hand to see the Americans go for the gold. Those crowds of flag-waving people chanting UISIAI, UISIAI had to've had some kind of impact on the games.

One of the oddest comments I heard about the games after it was all over, but it makes a kind of sense, was when Mike Eruzione said he thought the Russians looked relieved after they'd lost to the Americans. Eruzione said it was almost as if the pressure had finally lifted and now the Russians could go back to being just another hockey team.

Yeah, just like those hockey players in an alley in Miami Friday night... just a group of kids hipped up so they were out on roller skates battling a tennis ball around with homemade sticks that looked, on closer inspection, like broom, a broomstick, a push broom and a baseball bat.

So they were improvised and so they were roller skating on asphalt. So what? At that time, they were Eruzione, Craig, Morrow and Johnson and they were going for the gold!

Some victory!

With President Carter racking up 49 per cent of the Democratic vote in New Hampshire this week, not to mention a similar sweep in the Minnesota caucus, it was little short of amazing to hear Sen. Edward Kennedy on national television Wednesday morning that he was the victor.

In his triumphal march to the convention, some of Kennedy's aides indicated he would concentrate on Massachusetts and skip lightly over Carter's "home" states of South Carolina and Florida in the primaries before getting to Illinois.

Considering the more recent word out of Illinois, it might be advisable for the victorious loser to skip lightly all the way from Massachusetts to the convention.

Jones Interchange bought out South-east Cablevision last November is that the order of things hadn't been maintaining the system technically. I've worked with systems in which we had every problem imaginable, and some you couldn't imagine," Crusan said. "We don't have that many problems in this system but the problems we do have are horrendous."

He said the company owners didn't realize just how bad the problems were in Belle Glade and Pahokee when the sale was made but a construction company has just been hired to put the system in order, replacing worn out and broken cables and equipment and restoring the security of the system, which he said has been breached by a number of unauthorized outlets.

He said one of the problems has been that unauthorized workmen have "sold" homeowners cablevision service for a $50 installation fee, made an unauthorized connection and gone on their way.

He said he has no idea how many unauthorized connections have been made but the construction company's first priority will be the Belle Glade-Pahokee-South Bay area. He said it will take about a year to put the system in first class shape.

In Pahokee, Crusan told councilmen that extensive repairs have had to be made to equipment because of "inherited problems."

He said he was "confident that service had been better in the last two weeks and he was going to get better." A technician will be stationed fulltime in Pahokee as soon as he can find a place to live, Crusan said.

Crusan distributed HBO movie guides to Belle Glade, commissioners and Pahokee councilmen.

He asked Pahokee councilmen to give him three months and if they aren't satisfied then, he would come back before them.

On motion W. E. McKinstry, who said, "Let's give them a chance to do what they're trying to do," the council approved the three-month waiting period before considering any further action.

In Belle Glade, the commissioners told Crusan they thought Belle Glade residents would accept the installation of Channel 17 as a good faith offering.

Crusan said that once HBO is installed, the company may eventually offer other channels. He said the converters through which HBO is offered has four or five channels and that means other possibilities.

He said customers could have the HBO converters installed for a $10 installation fee plus the first month's fee of $9. Cablevision customers with HBO will pay a total of $18.36, he said.

is believed to be a spring hole.

Snyder said he chose the natural rock, rather than a dressed stone, because it has "character." Snyder's Buildings and Grounds crew has also pulled a stump that was in front of the garage gate, removed a utility pole and landscaped around the stone, which has been mounted on a concrete foundation, the pouring of which was supervised by Abel.

Abel, a native of Arkansas, came to Belle Glade in 1958 as a heavy equipment repairman after helping build the West Virginia Turnpike. He and his wife took an apartment owned by Pennington and, some time later, Pennington told him he had a piece of heavy equipment in need of repairs, which Abel offered to take care of.

After Abel performed the repairs, Pennington offered him a job with the city and he has been a "municipal employee ever since."

Abel has for years been working as the city's jack of all trades, doing electrical work, welding and equipment repairs, using his own welding rig and often using large tools no one else with the city owns. Working in his unique position over the years, Abel has befriended a large number of people and one commissioner, said Monday night that any of his helpers who's managed to work with him for two weeks is his friend.

Snyder said he enjoys only two hobbies, antique clock collecting, which he began several years ago, and work.

"He's usually so dirty you can't get near him a half hour after he's on the job in the morning," Snyder said, "and on a three day weekend, he goes crazy unless he can find something to do so if anybody asks him to do something he's happy to do it."

Abel's health has been failing for some time now and Snyder said he believes his work has had a positive effect on him.

"I think he uses his work to psych himself up," Snyder said. "As long as he's busy on this rock, he can't quit. Then as soon as he's finished with this, he finds something else to do."

Snyder and City Manager Robert Sanders said they've told Abel the stone and plaque he's helped erect have been to consolidate the three plaques in place on the three buildings within the city garage compound.

Snyder said he intended to cover the plaque with posterboard and tell Abel Sanders had told him not to uncover it.

The unveiling was to have taken at 4 p.m. today, with the city commissioners and a group of his friends on hand for the ceremony.

FARM FACTS

By LARRY SCHWANDES, Agricultural Research and Education Center
And KENNETH SHULER,
Palm Beach County Agricultural Extension Service

One celery plant can produce one ounce of seeds (about 70,000), enough to provide transplants for about two acres of the crunchy vegetable.

Celery is a biennial plant. It usually grows vegetatively the first year and produces the seed stalk the second year. Holting (seedstalk development) may be caused by cold temperatures (60 degrees Fahrenheit for several days) during the seedling stage.

When soil temperatures become too warm, above 90°F, the seeds do not germinate. Shade cloth hung over celery seed beds in the summer months help reduce the soil temperature.

The four major varieties of celery grown in the Everglades Agriculture Area were bred and developed at the local Agricultural Research and Education Center.

The growing period for a celery crop is six months; three months for the seedbed and three months in the field, the longest of all vegetable crops in the Everglades.

Celery is the leading cash vegetable crop grown in Florida, valued at $55 million in 1978-79.

How many acres of celery were harvested last year? What was the yield per acre and how does it compare with yields for the previous year? What was the average price for a crate of celery? These questions can be answered by consulting the accompanying table.

Celery was harvested from 11,700 acres in 1978-79, an increase of more than 7 per cent from the previous season. It is encouraging to see that yield per acre for celery in 1978-79 increased from the previous year. In fact, the average yield was up 18 per cent—the result of good crop management being combined with good weather conditions. Regrettably, it appears that the farmer may be his own worst enemy. The increase in production was accompanied by a 7.9 percent decrease in average price; from $7.36 to $6.78 per crate. The celery crop harvested in Florida in 1978-79 was valued at more than $55 million, an increase of 17.9 percent over the value of the 1977-78 crop. The returns from celery accounted for 7.2 percent of the dollar value of all fresh vegetables grown in Florida. Celery was followed by sweet corn at $51 million and green peppers at $49 million.

No one is too sure what happens to the celery after the housewife (or househusband) buys it in the grocery store. Judging from the home cooking I am privileged to eat, it probably goes into turkey dressing or chicken-dressing most of the time. What is your guess? In any case, celery is not the lowly vegetable that it might seem to be, especially when it accounts for $55 million in Florida's economy.

* BOYS ONLY

The Glades Day School boys and girls tennis teams have each won two and lost one match in their first three outings, losing the first time to John Carroll and winning subsequent matches against Clewiston and Benjamin.

Girls tennis coach Rita Schoenfeld said the girls team is, "kind of shaky from last year." She said she'd lost both number one and number two girls, with one graduating and the other not coming out for the team.

Miss Schoenfeld said she has one senior, three sophomores and two eighth graders on the team this year while boys coach Mike Underwood has three seniors, one junior and two seventh graders for an even younger team. Both teams are looking for help from the basketball teams that are just now winding up their seasons.

Miss Schoenfeld said the girls won their district tournament in last year's tennis season. "We probably can't do it this year," she said, "but I think we'll do okay."

The girls' lineup this year begins with Felisse Orduna, then works down through Monica Hooker, Cheryl Hooker, Deirdre Orduna and Debbie Dulaney.

The boys' lineup begins with Philip Dulaney and goes down through Timmy Kirchman, Tommy Wilson, Ralph Garcia and Jason Orduna.

Glades Day School girls coach Randy McCracken said his team, a young one, has only three returning players this year and he doesn't expect his team to win "anything big."

"If we show improvement," McCracken said, however, "it will be a successful season and I'm looking forward to a strong state contender in the next couple of years."

He said his starting lineup for this year will be Tim Lennon, Barry Weekley, both juniors, and freshmen Jesse Lee, Lamar Landing and Adrian Rodriguez.

The returners from last year are Adrian Rodriguez, Jesse Lee and Barry Weekley.

The team has been practicing for more than a month at the Belle Glade County Club Golf Course, with the first match scheduled at Okeechobee last Tuesday.

Baseball coach Tim King said his team started practice Feb. 18 in preparation for this first game of the season, March 11 against Moore Haven at home.

King said the Glades have nine returning lettermen, including five starters. "I think we'll have a good ball team if the pitching comes around," he said.

King said Jason Shelton will be back at pitcher and all the outfielders and his starting first and third basemen are back but he said he still needs a catcher.

He said Tom Swager will be playing at third and Nacho Bueno will be first baseman while the returning outfielders are Benton Tyson, Jason Shelton and Jimmy McMillan.

King said the district tournaments for both softball and basketball will be held at Glades Day at the end of April.

GIRLS TRACK

Glades Central girls track coach Jay Seider is running into the same problem as other area spring coaches in that several of his track team members are also on the girls basketball team... but Seider has more experience this year, having run into the same overlap between a champion football team's playoffs and the boys basketball team.

"I've gotta find out first who's eligible," Seider said last week. "If we get everybody eligible, we should be pretty strong but I still have six girls in basketball. We're not ready for any big meets yet."

TENNIS

Tennis Coach Jeff Givens said the Glades Central tennis team—only a boys team is being fielded this year—is the best ever "BRI" with six matches under the "Raiders" collective belt, they've already beaten Christian Day School and North Shore and Fort Pierce Westwood.

"I've got some really good players," Givens said. "Number one player is Keith Reece. He's the best. Then there's Rosellito Abellera in the number two slot, number three Coy Reece, number four Carlos Lopez and number five John Ford. That's the starting lineup.

"I've had some problems in the past getting people to come out and play," Givens said, "but the ones who have come out have stuck with it and it's paying off. We're having our best year ever."

Givens said part of the reason for the team's success is the good attitude on the part of the players, "and an excellent athletic director (Graham Frost) who has turned the school around."

BOY'S TRACK

Glades Central's track teams, boys and girls, will have one major advantage over last year's team in the form of a newly resurfaced track that was completed last week.

Now, coach Willie McDonald said, all that remains is to get the track striped and new hurdles in preparation for meets scheduled at home. The new track also to be used by Pahokee High and Lake Shore Middle Schools for their home meets.

"We're looking strong again this year," McDonald said of the boys team, noting the Raiders lost several star performers from last year's team but several others are returning, including virtually the entire 440 yard relay team that went to State last year. Charles Miller in the shotput and discus competition, Wilford Morgan in the long and high jumps, Greg Bain in the 100 yard sprint and Eddie Lusane in the hurdles.

SPORTS PREVIEW

TENNIS

"Girls and boys tennis continue to improve each year," says Martha Serrano, PHS girls' coach and art teacher.

Last year, PHS won a 7-1 record, the single best occurring in a non-conference match.

Lisa Cook is the PHS top-seeded player with Melita Moran in the Number 2 slot. Donna Harrington started her second year this year undefeated and Number 3 on the roster. Ina Seides was a district winner last year and Wyandette Curtis is holding her own in singles play for the second year.

In doubles play, all eyes are on Seides and Harrington.

Courting the honors on the PHS boys tennis team with the coaching assistance of William Fagur are Jesus Diaz in the Number 1 spot; Darrel Collier, No. 2; Scott Parrish, 3; Dave Griffin, 4; David Pelham, 5; and John Bush as Number 6 man.

BASEBALL

Baseball coach Gus Harmon said the Crusaders will be a young team this year. He said he has no seniors, five junior, and two eighth graders on his team of 15 players, with the other 13 falling into sophomore and freshman categories.

"I can't remember a group of kids with so much ability at their age," Harmon said of his charges. "I'm looking forward to working with them."

Harmon singled out William Cruz, his sophomore pitcher-shortstop, as one particularly outstanding player. He said he's now trying to get Cruz ready for the 1984 Olympic games, when baseball will be introduced as a new event in the summer games.

He said some other players who show a lot of promise include Stewart Hutton, Juan Amas, Jose Martinez, James Barnwell, Alex Morales and Robert Echols.

SOFTBALL

At Christian Day School, both the softball and baseball coaches are in their first years at the local private school.

Kathy McReynolds, who also coached the girls' basketball team, will be heading up the softball team with the assistance of Joe Gushko, a native of Dayton, Ohio. Miss McReynolds attended Bryan College in Dayton, Tenn., graduating with a bachelor's degree in physical education in May 1979. She doubles as a seventh grade science teacher.

Miss McReynolds said last week she was two weeks into practice with the softball team, while finishing up the year with the basketball team. She said the time for the cut game and no cuts were made.

BASEBALL

Glades Central baseball coach Steve Cohen said his goal this year is to improve on last year's 4-18 record, "and we hope to go at least .500 for the season."

Cohen said he has eight returning starters from last year and there is a lot of enthusiasm on the team. "We have new uniforms too," he said, "so we'll have a new look."

Cohen said his starting pitchers are Michael Jones and Alozo Butts, with Roger Mattley backing them up.

"The competition is strong," he said, "and some of the teams have already played games. Our first game is at home against Jupiter on Feb. 29, for instance, and North Shore already has six games under their belts."

McDonald said he's already received word that four of the Raiders on last year's track squad are performing well, including mile and two-mile runners Rober O'Neal and Willie Tyler and also discus thrower Freddie Garrett, all of whom are attending Fresno State, and Bobby Bereton, a hot runner for the Raiders last year who recently ran a 48.5 split in the mile relay for Miami Dade North.

In going over the returning competitors, McDonald said Charles Miller lost only one meet during last year's regular season and came in fourth in the shotput at the state meet.

Morgan was also at the state meet, as were Greg Egan, on both the 440 yard relay and mile medley relay teams, Ray McDonald and Arthur Monroe, also on the 440 relay team, Eddie Lusane on the 120 high and 330 low hurdles and Levelle Moreland in the mile and two-mile runs.

"We may have only four seniors this year," McDonald said, "but rest will be juniors, sophomores and freshmen as we build up strong for the next two years or so."

McDonald said some of the athletes he has coming up to replace those who graduated this year included "Dimitrios Singletary in the two mile relay and open quarter, Dennis Brady in the same events; Robert Brown in the mile and two mile runs; and runners Emanuel Thompson, Alvin Ford and Theodore Paulk, all freshmen transferring in from Lake Shore Middle School."

McDonald said he is sharing one problem with other spring sports coaches, overlapping schedules which has so far kept some basketball players and competitors on the "wrestling" team from reporting for practice. He said he is looking for help from those near once they're finished for the season.

CDS

"We have potential in everybody," she said. "I think we have a chance to go .500 anyway." Athletic Director Kenneth Lassiter said the girls lost in the semi-finals of the district softball tournament last year, going to a 12-5 season record.

Miss McReynolds said the team lost four players to graduation last year and there is only one senior, leaving her with a "real young team" this year. She said the pitching staff and second baseman are back this year but there is an entirely new infield. She characterized this year's feminine Crusaders as having a lot of "hustle and want-to".

Con't. from P. 7

Promising players she said are playing this year include first baseman Paula Anderson, pitcher Kim Chambliss, in her first year in organized sports, Joni Davis at shortstop and Lisa Acree at catcher.

The whole district is going to be tough, Miss McReynolds said of the coming season. She said the teams at Glades Day and Moore Haven promise to be competitive. "The key to how we do this year," she said, "is how fast we're able to get."

He said he was also expecting some of the juniors on the varsity basketball team to show up for practice once the team completes its post-season tournament play, which begins this weekend with the district tournament here.

He said he expects to see "the team improve on its 5-16 record of last year, although he expects a tough season. He said a .500 season would be good.

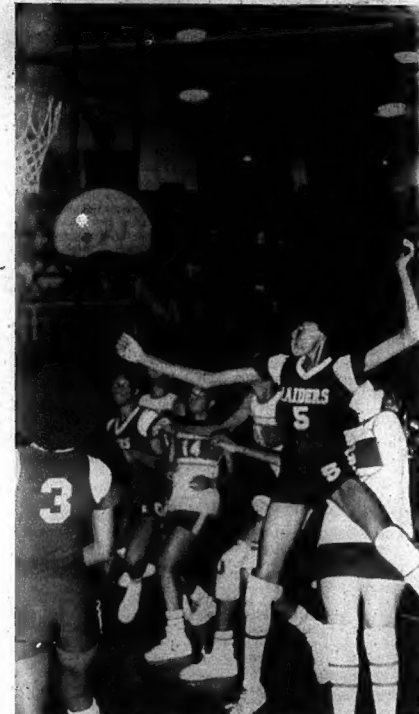

"We're going to have a new look," he said. "We'll have new uniforms and we're going to play aggressive baseball rather than a conservative game." He said his goal is to develop players who can go further and play with class and finesse.

Harmon was born in Knoxville, Tenn., raised in southwestern Ohio and was graduated from Caron Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn., with a major in physical education and a teaching certificate in biology.

He said the baseball and softball teams would host the district tournament this year, using the Glades Day School fields.

never gave up.

"We outscored them, 17-6 in the final quarter," Raider coach Steve Cohen said, "after trailing them, 40-33 at the end of the third. I'm just really proud of the girls for not quitting. It probably would have been easy to say, 'We gave it our best shot but we just weren't good enough,' but they just wouldn't quit."

Cohen said the Lady Raiders may have been intimidated by the height of Okeechobee's 6'6" Philicia Allen, who made her presence felt wherever she was on court.

While Glades Central's girls appeared to lighten up more and more in the second and third periods, turning over the ball any number of times and often taking as many as three shots before giving it up without scoring, Okeechobee took advantage by pressing home an aggressive attack and defense.

But when Burroughs and Company applied the press late in the fourth quarter, they caught the Lady Brahmins in a reverse with no timeouts left and Okeechobee coach Gay Carlton had no chance to calm down her charges.

The Raider's scoring spree started when Burroughs fed the ball to Cynthia Harrell, who made eight of the Raiders' final 13 points, but the final field goal that put Glades Central on top came with Burroughs' jump shot after she'd taken the ball away from an Okeechobee player and raced back down to her basket, sending the ball cleanly through the net to the delighted cry of "Whoosh" from the crowd.

Burroughs led the scoring for the night with 22 points, followed by Cynthia Harrell with ten, Jessica Hansford with nine, Sheila Ashley with four; Mary West and Cassandra Strachan with two apiece and Gloria Stewart with one.

The Lady Raiders travel to Hallandale Saturday to take on the Lady Chargers in an 8 p.m. game for the Sectional Championship. Hallandale won their regional championship Tuesday night in a 64-51 win over Miami Edison.

Hallandale coach Bill Fish said his charges have a 20-7 record for the season. He said the team mixes a zone and man-to-man defense and he has a well-balanced team offensively, with one player who's scored more than 400 points, three who've scored more than 200 and three more who've scored more than 100 points each.

For Glades Central fans who want to follow the Lady Raiders to Hallandale, Fish said the school is easy to find and can be seen from I-95.

Fisk said those traveling to the game should take I-95 to Pembroke Road in Hallandale, take a left on Pembroke Road under I-95 and turn right at the second traffic light. He said the school can be seen from that point.

Should Glades Central win that game, they'll go to the state tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 6-8 in Winter Park.

Getting into the regional game, however, the Lady Raiders won their most lop-sided game this season, taking Atlantic 108-8 last Friday. Cohen said Atlantic didn't score until the second period, when Glades Central was already enjoying a 42-0 lead. The score at the half was 67-2.

Six of the Glades Central girls scored in double figures, being led off with Joy Burroughs with 26 points, followed by Cynthia Harrell's 18, Gloria Stewart's 17, Mary West's 15, Sheila Ashley's 14, Jessica Hansford's ten, Priscilla Rolle's six and Davens Johnson's two points.

Cohen said he'd expected to play North Shore in the final game of the tournament but Cardinal Newman had surprised North Shore Friday night. The Lady Raiders easily polished off Cardinal Newman, 89-28 for the district championship Saturday night.

Four players scored in double digits for Glades Central that evening, led by Burroughs again with 31 points, more than the entire Cardinal Newman team.

Cohen noted that freshman Gloria Stewart came off the bench to add 18 points, followed by Cynthia Harrell's 12 points, Jessica Hansford's 11, Sheila Ashley and Mary West with six each, Priscilla Rolle with three and Davens Johnson with two.

PAHOKEE BOYS TRACK

When you're Number 2 you try harder, and that's the position Pahokee High School's boys track team is in at the start of the spring season.

Under the coaching of Antoine Russell, the PHS track team placed second in the state meet last year, losing first place by only four points.

Since then the district champs have graduated five of their key men but Russell says, "We have a good nucleus coming back."

The team faces its first competition Saturday, running in the John I. Leonard Invitational meet at Lake Worth.

But the cliffhanger of the season will be the March 14 contest with Martin County. For the past two years Martin has run ahead but the two years before that PHS was the winner and this year's meet will be a tie-breaker.

Russell expects some 25 runners out for track. Each man is picked because he can do a "maneuver of things," the coach explains. "And with the transportation problem, it makes it even more important that each member can be in more than one event."

Track stars returning this year include Leonard Jones, winner of the 220 in last year's state meet. A sprinter, Jones is a senior this year. Albert Gray, another state winner, is outstanding in the 440 and 880, says Russell. He is anchor man in the mile relay and placed second in the 440 at state. Andre Waters is the school's hope as a middle distance man.

Also showing great potential in Russell's view are shot putter Lonnie Pendergrass and Lorenzo Collins, pole vaulter.

Russell is a 1969 graduate of Florida A&M where he was a football and track scholarship student. A native of New Orleans, he teaches physical education at PHS.

Pahokee girls win region title

PAHOKEE-The Pahokee High School girls basketball team won a three-point squeaker Tuesday night against Miami Westminster Christian to take the Region 8A girls basketball championship and will host Avon Park at 8 p.m. Saturday for the Sectional championship game.

The Blue Devils' win gave them a 13-7 season record to this point, coach Gwen Davis said and followed the District championship the Devils won in Clewiston last weekend.

"It was a pretty tight game," Ms. Davis said of the Tuesday night matchup against Westminster. "At the half, they were leading us, 32-24 but we came back and started pressing them and lightened down on turnovers. They made a few free throws and we made some free throws and that was the difference."

She said the margin was never large at any time in the game.

Ms. Davis said the Westminster team "was a good team, well coached and displayed good sportsmanship throughout the game. She said one of the Westminster players, Sue Mazola, made seven field goals and two free throws, with all the field goals coming in the form of jump shots.

all of which were accurate.

Patsy Lee led the scoring for Pahokee with 26 points, and rebounds, followed by Jabella Jackson with eight points and two rebounds, Sheila Pettigrew with eight points and 16 rebounds, Inger Brown with two points and six rebounds, Cassandra Robinson with six points and nine rebounds and Kimberly Powell with four points and 11 rebounds.

GCHS girls 2nd in track meet

BELLE GLADE-Coach Jay Seider took the Glades Central girls track team to the Lady Crusader Track and Field Meet at Twin Lakes Saturday, "just to get a little experience," and saw his charges finish in second place.

The first place winner was the team from Hollywood McArthur, the defending state AAA champions who took more than 100 points, allowing the Lady Raiders 37 points and second to lead the rest of the field of 15 schools represented.

Just last Friday, Seider wasn't sure how many of his girls would be eligible to compete this year but he said he managed to find two freshmen Saturday who turned in good performances, one in an event she'd never attempted.

"Carmen Crawford did a real good job," he said. "She finished first in the 100 yard dash, with a time of 11.1 seconds, and finished second in the 220 with a time of 26.5 seconds."

The second of the two standout freshmen was Debra Wilson, who finished first in the 330 yard hurdles in 50.5 seconds. "She's never run in the hurdles before,"

Seider said, "so I'm anxious to see what she can do when she gets some experience."

The girls' 440 relay team won second place in 52.6 seconds. The team is made up of Barbara Bostick, Carla Redwood, Sophie Dukes and Carmen Crawford.

Sheila Nix finished third in both the shotput and discus, heaving the shot 38'6" and hurling the disc 98'8". Brenda Burton was fifth in the shot, heaving the ball 34'5".

Chalo Nitka time is here again!

There may always be plenty of bad news to spread around, but sometimes it takes some hard looking to find the good news.

Fortunately, this is one of those weeks when the good news outweighs the bad.

Chalo Nitka, which is responsible for this happy state of affairs, has overtaken us again.

Chalo Nitka has repeated itself every year since 1949. This year's edition is the 32nd annual renewal of the festival, making it older than a sizeable percentage of the people now living in Glades County.

If you're like most folks, by Sunday afternoon you can expect to be a little "submerged" under three days of absorbing solar energy, a mite overweight from eating all the good things which will tempt your sense of smell and tastebuds, and perhaps a little "over-joyed" from all the dancing and walking.

Chalo Nitka this year got underway Wednesday with the Show Boat cruise to Ocoee and back to Moore Haven again. The Chalo Nitka queen contest is tonight (Thursday) at 7:30.

Friday is kids day, with the haystack scramble, small fry fishing contest, carnival midway and other activities planned.

Saturday morning starts off with the parade and from what we've heard, it just may be the biggest and best one ever. The Chalo Nitka queen float put in its first appearance at the Swamp Cabbage Parade in LaBelle. The girls and the float brought home the award for best out-of-town entry.

Lots of good things are planned this year so plan to be there. You'll find a complete schedule of events on this page.

Vitamins... An expert answers your questions!

By NANCY L. HENDRICKSON

Extension Agent I
Home Economics

Everybody is just wild about vitamins these days. Pop a few vitamin C's to cure your cold, groove on vitamin E for instant energy, and eat your organically grown carrots. Right? Not exactly! Read on to discover the answers to all those controversial questions you may have been asking.

Q. Exactly what is a vitamin?
A. A vitamin is an organic substance — found in food, or reproduced in laboratories — that is essential for life. It has its own chemical identity and works in tandem with substances such as enzymes and minerals, enabling your body to function properly.

There are two types of vitamins: water-soluble and fat-soluble. All vitamins other than A, D and E are water-soluble. They are excreted in your urine if not needed or used by your body. Water-soluble vitamins have to be replaced daily.

Fat-soluble vitamins are A, D and E. Your body can store these, and if you take too many, the effect can be toxic. Because of this potential hazard, the Food and Drug Administration has limited the strength of vitamins A and D for nonprescription sale.

Q. If I eat a balanced diet, will I be getting enough vitamins?
A. If you eat balanced meals from the four food groups (milk, meat, vegetables/fruit, bread/cereal) each day, you'll be getting all the vitamins you need. But if your eating habits are erratic, you may wish to take one multivitamin capsule or tablet each day. It certainly can't hurt.

Q. Can taking too many vitamins be dangerous?

A. Yes. As mentioned before, vitamins A and D are toxic when taken in excessive amounts. Too much vitamin A over a long period of time can increase pressure within the human skull, retard growth in children, and cause dry skin, headaches, and bone pain. Too much vitamin D retards mental growth in children. Nausea, weakness, stiffness, constipation, hypertension, and even death can occur from excessive vitamin D.

As for vitamin E, there is no evidence to date that excessive amounts are harmful. But don't push your luck.

Q. How do I know how many vitamins I need, and how much is too much?

A. A safe guideline is to follow the advice of the FDA: Don't go beyond the Recommended Daily Allowance (RDA) for any vitamin. You can find the RDA by reading the label.

Q. Are natural vitamins better than synthetic ones?
A. It makes no difference whether a vitamin is natural or synthetic. Every vitamin has a particular molecular structure that stays the same whether it is manmade or taken from an animal or plant. Your body can't tell the difference between a vitamin produced in a laboratory (synthetic) or one from a living or once-living substance (natural).

Q. Are vitamin-enriched foods good or bad?

A. Enrichment replaces vitamins lost in milling or processing, and thus adds up nutritional value. Enriched foods are not a must. You can get the same nutrients through a balanced diet, but enriched foods are good because many people are sloppy in meeting their nutritional needs. White-flour bread is enriched with B vitamins and iron, vitamin D is placed in milk, and margarine is fortified with vitamin A. These commonly eaten foods give people vitamins they might otherwise skip because of poor eating habits.

Q. Do frozen or canned foods have the same vitamin content as fresh foods?

A. In canning and freezing processes, some water-soluble vitamins are lost. Canning removes more vitamins than freezing. However, if you eat a balanced diet there's no need to worry this slight vitamin loss.

Q. Do organically grown foods have more vitamins than foods grown with chemical fertilizers?

A. Unless food is grown on virgin soil, it takes a long time for soil to be depleted of chemical fertilizers. Therefore, truly organically grown food may be difficult to achieve in America. Organically grown vegetables and fruits may contain fewer chemical fertilizers and pesticides. But there's no proof they're more nutritious.

Q. Does vitamin C really help or prevent colds?

A. There's not enough evidence to prove or disprove the theory that large doses of vitamin C are super cold fighters. It's best not to overdo your doses of vitamin C. Studies have indicated that too much vitamin C may cause kidney stones or diarrhea, and it can be particularly harmful to diabetics.

However, the body loses vitamin C in a stress situation and a cold is a stress situation. Vitamin C should be replaced, but the truth isn't mean overdoing it.

Q. What's the deal regarding Vitamin E?

A. Fanatics have many far flung claims for vitamin E: it's a super energizer; it prevents heart attacks; it slows the aging process; it cures cancer; and it helps treat ulcers, burns, and skin disorders! None of these claims has been scientifically proven. Furthermore, a vitamin E deficiency in human beings is fairly rare, so there's not much reason for the average person to take extra E.

Q. What does the term "megavitamin therapy" refer to?
A. The prefix "mega" comes from the Greek word megas, meaning "huge." Thus megavitamin therapy means giving huge doses of vitamins. In the last five or six years this type of treatment, especially with large amounts of B vitamins, has been used as a tool in handling certain mental and physiological problems, such as schizophrenia, alcoholism drug-induced states of mind, and low blood sugar.

Warning: megavitamin therapy is quite different from taking daily supplemental vitamins; because of the large dosage it must be supervised by a doctor. It's not something to try on your own.

Q. Is an anticancer vitamin?
A. Dermatologists sometimes advise that vitamin A acid (by prescription only) be dabbed directly on blemished skin. But will taking vitamin A pills stop acne before it starts? True, you need vitamin A for smooth, blemish-free skin, but gulping extra vitamin A can mean trouble. It's fat soluble — your body can store more than it needs, and an overload can be toxic. For a safer way to skin beauty, munch on deep yellow fruit, dark green vegetables, and dairy products — all rich in vitamin A.

Theatre insurance a problem

PAHOKEE—Prospects of the city providing liability coverage for the Prince Theatre Foundation appear dim.

City Attorney Michael Stauder advised commissioners Tuesday night not to provide funding for liability insurance for the theater group because the expenditure would not be a valid use of public money.

"It's too risky," Stauder told commissioners. "I don't see how you can call it a public purpose."

And a report from City Clerk Betty McCoy advised council that the city's insurance coverage includes property and liability protection for the theater building but the policy can't be amended to include the foundation sponsoring the theater.

The request for city assistance in purchasing liability insurance was made by Harriet Seides, president of the Prince Theatre Foundation at the previous council session.

The group plans to open the theater in April, she said, but doesn't have the money for liability insurance. She asked whether the city could include coverage under its insurance or purchase a separate policy with the possibility of the foundation paying back the cost at a later date.

In other council action:

- Opened two bids received for purchase of a variable speed pump and motor for Lift Station 1: one from S&H Sales of Lake Park with the comment that they were "unable to meet specifications" and one from Sanders, Aspinwall & Associates of Ft. Lauderdale, with a quotation of $6425, the bid was referred to the consulting engineer.

- Accepted the low bid of $6540 from Carter Chevrolet-Oldsmobile for a 106-inch wheelbase police car.
- Noted that Weyant Engineer had been contacted and would appear at the next council session.

- Approved a measure that will permit any resident with an individual water meter to request a garbage can.

A group of mobile home park residents appeared at the session to and that a large container placed in the neighborhood to serve four families be replaced by individual cans.

- Accepted the resignation of Ptl. Danny Adams from the police department for personal reasons, effective March 13. Ptl. Adams has served with the department six years.

- Authorized City Attorney Michael Stauder to draft an ordinance calling for a seven percent salary increase for the position of city clerk and city marshal following the May election and providing for a salary increase for them in next year's budget equal to whatever rate may be granted city department heads.
- Approved advertisement for bids to re-roof the Chamber of Commerce building.

Sugar meet is Tuesday

BELLE GLADE—A special sugar cane seminar addressing two management questions will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the conference room at the Agricultural Research and Education Center according to County Extension Agent Kenneth Shuler.

Shuler said the speakers at the seminar will be Ben Abbott, assistant general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League, and Dr. Jose Alvarez, area economist of the AREC.

Abbott will speak on, "Can you justify purchasing a mechanical sugar cane harvester?" and Dr. Alvarez will speak on "Using partial budgeting in the sugar cane stubble replacement decision."

THE WORLD'S YOUNGEST performing elephant, Pasha, and trainer Jeff Earl will be featured March 24 when the Belle Glade Lions Club sponsors a circus in the Ben Franklin parking lot. Earl also performs with two adult elephants.

Six to be elected in Pahokee

PAHOKEE—City elections have been set for May 6 when the two-year terms of the mayor, police chief, city clerk, and three councilmen expire.

The first date on which candidates may qualify for placement on the ballot is Friday, March 7. The qualifying period ends April 4.

Voter registration books will be opened until March 31, according to City Clerk Betty McCoy.

Both Police Chief Carmen (Sheets) Salvatore and City Clerk McCoy say they will seek reelection. Both will be seeking their fifth terms in office although Salvatore was first named city marshal in 1969 to complete one year of an unexpired term.

Mayor Duncan Padgett is yet undecided about seeking another term, he says.

If Padgett does not run for election, Commissioner Norma Norman says he will run for mayor. Otherwise he will seek reelection to the council for a third term, he said.

Asked if he would challenge Padgett for the mayoral election, Norman said, "No. I won't run against the mayor."

Another possible candidate for mayor is Commission Chairman Robert Walby.

Walby said he had made up his mind to run for mayor "against anybody" but other considerations have come up and he wants to rethink his decision.

"I'm not trying to evade the question," Walby said, "I really don't know at this time whether I will run for any office."

Also undecided about seeking reelection to the council is George Rasmley who is completing his first term as commissioner. "I haven't made up my mind yet," he said.

Raiders beat St. Thomas

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central basketball team won its final game of the season Saturday, 72-63 to give them a 12-14 season record and momentum to enter the District playoffs against Atlantic High Friday at Pompey Park in West Palm Beach.

Coach Jay Seider said the season's closer Saturday was against St. Thomas Aquinas. He said it was a close ball game all the way but he was able to change the defense around, going to the press and building up a five point lead the Raiders held steadily after the half.

Seider said the Raiders placed third in the Suncoast Conference West after posting an 8-6 record. Sam Anderson led the scoring with 24 points, 20 rebounds and three assists, followed by Eugene Wells with 14 points, and three rebounds, Charles Sears with 11 points and ten rebounds, Ernest Bussie with ten points, one rebound and three assists.

FAFF to seat new officers

PAHOKEE—FAFF, the inter-denominational senior citizens group for Fun After-Five will install officers Tuesday at a covered dish luncheon meeting at noon at the First Baptist Church.

Officers to be installed are: Grace Graham, president; Edna Maxson, vice president; Dee Maxson, secretary; Mary Hammond, treasurer; Rosanna Parrish, devotionals chairman; and Lola Ryala, service chairman. The installing officer is Elaine Lampi.

FROM THE GRAPEVINE

By BRENDA BUNTING

Today the discussion casts up about dumb and crazy things kids do and with the subject a flood of memories came to mind of growing up as a kid in the country in Illinois.

I don't know what city kids did as children, but I wouldn't trade my memories of those years with any city kid.

Like the year the snow was so deep my two brothers, two sisters and I climbed up on the roof of the small barn and dove into the snow without even a scratch-to-show-for it.

The long hot summer days when cousins might visit and we would play cops and robbers and instead of shooting each other with imaginary guns, we would have corn cob fights, and if you were hit with a corn cob, it was the same. As being shot by John Dillinger's gun, and it smarted a little too. No claiming "Ya missed me!", when from the sting of your arm you knew different.

I can remember how hard it was for Mom and Dad to get a babysitter for five kids when we were small. It was such a treat for them when they could afford to hire someone to watch us so they could get away for an occasional evening only to come back to a babysitter who was sitting on the porch in tears, refusing to go back in the house because my oldest brother had gotten out his snake and chased her out of the house with it.

Or the time I jumped out of our second floor bedroom window on a date from my older sister on the understanding that she was to follow.

Boy was I mad at her when she refused to jump after she saw what a mess I was from skinning my chin all down the side of the house. The babysitter promptly quit then too.

The hay loft was a wonderful place to spend a rainy afternoon. We would shuffle the hay around so that we had an intricate maze that always wound its way to the center of the hay loft where we dug out a hole.

By all rights, we were forbidden to play in the hay loft. Mom said it was dangerous and Dad didn't like us to dig in the hay.

I was allergic to the hay so Mom always knew when we had disobeyed and gone to the hay loft to play by the red spots on my face and the considerable amount of wiggling I did while being questioned because I itched all over.

I suppose everyone has a few memories of their childhood that makes them say "Ah, to be a kid again!" and I'm sure city kids have some good stories they could tell too. Still, it's nice to have brothers and sisters to swap stories with and say "Do you remember the time . . . ?"

Country mouse or city mouse, it's nice to reminisce the good old days once in a while.

Terrienne Johnson weds W. Johnson

Terrienne Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Johnson of Pahokee, and William Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnson, also of Pahokee were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony held at 7 p.m. Feb. 8 at the First Baptist Church of Pahokee.

Yellow and white mixed spring flowers and greenery decorated the church.

Performing the ceremony was the Rev. Alexander Pasetti of Fort Myers. Teryl Collier of Canal Point served as organist and Carol Schmidt of Belle Glade was the soloist.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white chiffon gown overlaid in Venice lace appliques and beaded with seed pearls and sequins, ending in a chapel-length train.

The bride's bouquet was a colonial nosegay of white roses, mini-carnations and babies breath trimmed with lace ribbon streamers.

Carol Schmidt, matron of honor, wore a lemon yellow floor length gown and a hairpiece was a halo of yellow silk flowers and babies breath. She carried a nosegay of yellow mini-carnations and daisies.

Natalie Hyatt, former roommate of the bride, was bridesmaid and Casey Johnson, young daughter of the groom was junior bridesmaid. Their dresses, hairpieces and bouquets were identical to those of the matron of honor.

The groom and his attendants wore white tuxedos. Darrel Douglas served as best man, Scott Parrish as groomsman and usher, and Billy and Danny Johnson, sons of the groom, were groomsmen and junior ushers.

Celia Stapler, Joyce Riddle, Emma Jean Cross and Jan Verthommen prepared the hors d'oeuvres for the occasion. Doris Wetherington served cake, and Linda Brewer served punch to approximately 100 guests.

Among those attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Anderson III of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Avery Johnson of Spiritwood, N.D.; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Justina Johnson, Mulberry; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Plant clinic Come to Mexico at library set for Mar. 7

BELLE GLADE-A plant clinic will be conducted by Gene Joyner, urban horticulturist, Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service, at the Glades agriculture office, 2978 North 441, Friday, March 7, from 11 a.m. to noon.

Many people have problems with various plants in landscaping and need help diagnosing the problem and how to correct it. This plant clinic is set up for the public to bring in any problems they are having with trees, shrubbery, or lawns. An agent will be available to look at the samples and diagnose the problem.

Bulletins on various subjects are also available at the agricultural extension office. Those attending the plant clinic are encouraged to pick up bulletins of interest to them.

Anyone unable to come to the agricultural office during the clinic hour may call in plant problems to 996-5511, extension 33, and Gene Joyner will try to answer questions over the phone.

This free clinic is not a formal class or lecture and will be conducted on a very informal basis. Anyone having plant problems is encouraged to attend.

BELLE GLADE-Second in the series of the Round-the-World Tour will be held Saturday at the Municipal Library with a "Come Visit Mexico" program.

A variety of Mexican snacks is being prepared by the library staff for a food-tasting that opens the program at noon. The menu includes gorditas, tortas de calabacitas (squash fritters), pan dulce de frutas (glazed fruitbread), and galletas de mocha y cereza y nuez (mocha cherry and nut cookies).

A film on Mexico has been ordered for showing at 1 p.m. and a Mexican story will be featured at the 2 p.m. story hour, according to the director, Phyllis Lilley.

The theme of the April visit will be Poland.

Theatre insurance a problem

THE WORLD'S YOUNGEST performing elephant, Pasha, and trainer Jeff Earl will be featured March 24 when the Belle Glade Lions Club sponsors a circus in the Ben Franklin parking lot. Earl also performs with two adult elephants.

PAHOKEE—Prospects of the city providing liability coverage for the Prince Theatre Foundation appear unlikely.

City Attorney Michael Stauder advised commissioners Tuesday night not to provide funding for liability insurance for the theater group because the expenditure would not be a valid use of public money.

"It's too risky," Stauder told commissioners. "I don't see how you can call it a public purpose."

And a report from City Clerk Betty McCoy advised council that the city's insurance coverage includes property and liability protection for the theater building but the policy can't be endorsed to include the foundation sponsoring the theater.

The request for city assistance in purchasing liability insurance was made by Harriett Seldes, president of the Prince Theatre Foundation at the previous council session.

The group plans to open the theater in April, she said, but doesn't have the money for liability insurance. She asked whether the city could include coverage under its insurance or purchase a separate policy with the possibility of the foundation paying back the cost at a later date.

In other council action:

- Opened two bids received for purchase of a variable speed pump and motor for Lift Station 1: one from S&H Sales of Lake Park with the comment that they were "unable to meet specifications" and one from Sanders, Aspinwall & Associates of Ft. Lauderdale, with a quotation of $8425. The bid was referred to the consulting engineer.

- Accepted the low bid of $6540 from Carter Chevrolet-Oldsmobile for a 105-inch wheelbase police car.

- Noted that Weyant Engineer had been contacted and would appear at the next council session.

- Approved a measure that will permit any resident with an individual water meter to request a garbage can.

A group of mobile home park residents appeared at the session to ask that a large container placed in the neighborhood to serve four families be replaced by individual units.

- Accepted the resignation of P.I. Danny Adams from the police department for personal reasons, effective March 13. P.I. Adams has served with the department six years.

- Authorized City Attorney Michael Stauder to draft an ordinance calling for a seven percent salary increase for the position of city clerk and city marshal following the May election and providing for a salary increase for them in next year's budget equal to whatever rate may be granted city department heads.

- Approved advertisement for bids to re-roof the Chamber of Commerce building.

Sugar meet is Tuesday

BELLE GLADE — A special sugar cane seminar addressing two management questions will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the conference room at the Agricultural Research and Education Center according to County Extension Agent Kenneth Shuler.

Shuler said the speakers at the seminar will be Ben Abbit, assistant general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League, and Dr. Jose Alvarez, area economist of the AREC.

Abbit will speak on, "Can you justify purchasing a mechanical sugar cane harvester?" and Dr. Alvarez will speak on "Using partial budgeting in the sugar cane stubble replacement decision."

Six to be elected in Pahokee

PAHOKEE—City elections have been set for May 6 when the two-year terms of the mayor, police chief, city clerk, and three councilmen expire.

The first date on which candidates may qualify for placement on the ballot is Friday, March 7, the qualifying period ends April 4.

Voter registration books will be opened until March 31, according to City Clerk Betty McCoy.

Both Police Chief Carmen (Skeets) Salvatore and City Clerk McCoy say they will seek re-election. Both will be seeking their fifth terms in office although Salvatore was first named city marshal in 1969 to complete one year of an unexpired term.

Mayor Duncan Padgett is yet undecided about seeking another term, he says.

If Padgett does not run for election, Commissioner Norma Norman says he will run for mayor. Otherwise he will seek re-election to the council for a third term, he said.

Asked if he would challenge Padgett for the mayoral election, Norman said, "No. I won't run against the mayor."

Another possible candidate for mayor is Commission Chairman Robert Welty.

Welty said he had made up his mind to run for mayor "against any candidate" but other considerations have come up and he wants to rethink his decision.

"I'm not trying to evade the question," Welty said, "I really don't know at this time whether I will run for any office."

Also undecided about seeking re-election to the council is George Ransley who is completing his first term as commissioner. "I haven't made up my mind yet," he said.

Raiders beat St. Thomas

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central basketball team won its final game of the season Saturday, 72-63 to give them a 12-14 season record and momentum to enter the District playoffs against Atlantic High Friday at Pompey Park in West Palm Beach.

Coach Jay Seider said the season's closer Saturday was against St. Thomas Aquinas. He said it was a close ball game all the way but he was able to change the defense around, going to the press and building up a five point lead the Raiders held steadily after the half.

Seider said the Raiders placed third in the Suncoast Conference West after posting an 8-6 record.

Sam Anderson led the scoring with 24 points, 20 rebounds and three assists, followed by Eugene Wells with 14 points, and three rebounds. Charles Sears with 11 points and ten rebounds, Ernest Bussie with ten points, one rebound and three assists.

FAFF to seat new officers

PAHOKEE — FAFF, the inter-denominational senior citizens group for Fun After Fifty-Five will install officers Tuesday at a covered dish luncheon meeting at noon at the First Baptist Church.

Officers to be installed are: Grace Graham, president; Elina Maxson, vice president; Dee Maxson, secretary; Mary Hammond, treasurer; Roseanna Parrish, devotions chairman; and Lela Ryals, service chairman. The installing officer is Imae Lampi.

GOOD YEAR TIRE CENTERS

Today the discussion came up about dumb and crazy things kids do and with the subject a flood of memories came to mind of growing up as a kid in the country in Illinois.

I don't know what city kids did as children, but I wouldn't trade my memories of those years with any city kid.

Like the year the snow was so deep my two brothers, two sisters and I climbed up on the roof of the small barn and dove into the snow without even a scratch to show for it.

The long hot summer days when cousins would visit and we would play cops and robbers and instead of shooting each other with imaginary guns, we would have corn cob fights, and if you were hit with a corn cob, it was the same as being shot by John Dillinger's gun, and it smarted a little too. No claiming "Ya missed me!", when from the sting of your arm you knew different.

I can remember how hard it was for Mom and Dad to get a babysitter for five kids when we were small. It was such a treat for them when they could afford to hire someone to watch us so they could get away for an occasional evening only to come back to a babysitter who was sitting on the porch in tears, refusing to go back in the house because my oldest brother had gotten out his snake and chased her out of the house with it.

FROM THE GRAPEVINE

By BRENDA BUNTING

Or the time I jumped out of our second floor bedroom window on a dare from my older sister on the understanding that she was to follow.

Boy was I mad at her when she refused to jump after she saw what a mess I was from skinning my chin all down the side of the house. The babysitter promptly quit then too.

The hay loft was a wonderful place to spend a rainy afternoon. We would shuffle the hay around so that we had an intricate maze that always wound its way to the center of the hay loft where we dug out a hole.

By all rights, we were forbidden to play in the hay loft. Mom said it was dangerous and Dad didn't like us to dig in the hay.

I was allergic to the hay so Mom always knew when we had disobeyed and gone to the hay loft to play by the red spots on my face and the considerable amount of wiggling I did while being questioned because I itched all over.

I suppose everyone has a few memories of their childhood that makes them say "Ah, to be a kid again!", and I'm sure city kids have some good stories they could tell too. Still, it's nice to have brothers and sisters to swap stories with and say "Do you remember the time...?"

Taking it From the Top

By REV. DAVID T. EVANS
Everglades Presbyterian Church

Christians are well into the Lenten Season. This time is for preparation for Easter which is celebrated as the Victory of Christ over death.

Lent, as we wrote in last week's column, is the time of repentance, evaluation and beginning a new life in Christ. This means giving up or turning away from the temporal or physical things of life.

It also means considering doing things differently in our lives. Let's look at some of the possibilities.

In the Jewish-Christian tradition God is to have first call on the first tenth (a tithe) of our lives and resources. If we follow this belief it would mean God is due 16 hours of each week, one tenth of our income — $10 if we make $100 a week, $20 if we make $200 a week. Christians go beyond the Jewish tithe, saying giving begins as we give more than the part which belongs to God.

From the fourth century Lent has been a time of special emphasis. It is a time when our Lord Jesus Christ to spend time in prayers of adoration, confession and repentance. It is time to curb our desires for food by fasting, to give to the work of God and to show compassion for those in need.

"In reality, Lent seems to be a time when Christians turn their minds and hearts toward the matters of the spirit. It can be a time when we show concern for those who are hungry, naked or in prison.

At Christmas we collect canned goods for those less fortunate than we are. At Easter some churches give money for hunger programs. Truly Easter is a time when we are to think of others as much or more than at Christmas because Lent is the season when our Lord Jesus gave His life for the sins of the world. It is the time when love (caring for others) overcame greed, evil and hate.

Let us join in an effort to think of others, to spend time in prayer for the world and to give for the benefit of the hungry of the world.

Young at Heart will meet Mar. 6

BELLE GLADEThe Young at Heart Club will hold a dinner March 6 at noon at Jamison Hall of the Community United Methodist Church.

The program will be presented by the Christian Day School first and second grades of Mrs. Penuei and Mrs. Willis.

Thirty-eight members and guests of the Young at Heart Club recently went to Boca Raton for dinner at the Bihelton Conference Center and a sacred concert at the Bihelton Community Church. Another trip is planned for March 22. Details will be provided at the March 6 meeting, the deadline for reservations.

THE HUDSON RIVER

When you've seen great ships sail into a broad river and make their way to the sea, you forget that every river has its source.

Far up in the Adirondack Mountains of northern New York a mountain stream tumbles its rocky way to the valley; so begins the mighty Hudson. Humus might and greatness are the same. They begin in a small way as the individual makes the right decisions, embraces the important values, chooses the course of his life.

A strong religious faith can go a long way in helping us find our true destiny. Christians believe that we worship together that what we are today is but a point along the way to what God intends us to become.

Success of landscape plantings depends greatly on site analysis and plant selection.

The long term value of a landscape plant depends on how well it performs in the planting site. Planting site characteristics such as amount of sun or shade, salt spray, exposure, water drainage and soil type must be determined before plants are selected.

The light characteristics of a planting site can be full sun, half day full sun, indirect light, broken shade, full shade or any level in between. Ornamental plants can be selected which will grow in almost any sun or shade level around the home.

The amount of light affects rate of photosynthesis, plant water loss, degree of sun scald, and ability to tolerate dry soils and winds. Most plants grown in shade require less irrigation than plants grown in full sun.

Plants protected by trees are less subject to cold injury than those in exposed locations because the tree canopy reduces the radiant heat loss from these plants. Shade during the early morning slows the rate of thaw and can reduce the amount of cold damage.

Plant tolerance of salt water and salt spray is of particular concern to homeowners living in Florida's coastal areas. Plants can be selected that are well-adapted to soils and exposures of coastal areas.

Poor soil drainage may cause roots of some plants to rot while other plants are adapted to wet soils. However, plants recommended for wet areas which are produced in a well-drained nursery soil may not be able to withstand the rapid transition. The best solution is to correct the drainage problem by skirting surface or subsurface drainage patterns with tiles, land forms, etc.

A soil test should be completed before landscape plants are selected. Select plants which are adapted to the existing soil type rather than amending or changing soil conditions to suit a particular type of plant.

Good landscape design requires that landscape plants be used to serve a definite function. Plants should improve the appearance or usefulness of the home grounds.

Homeowners often select plants with unusual characteristics. A limited number of plants with unusual colors or growth habits can be used effectively in the landscape, but their location must be skillfully planned.

Some plants in retail outlets are tagged according to grades and standards as established by the Florida Division of Plant Industry. A plant graded as a Florida Fancy is a healthy and vigorous plant which is very well shaped, heavily branched and densely foliated. A Florida No. 1 grade is a healthy vigorous plant which is well shaped, well branched and well foliated. The Florida No. 2 is healthy, vigorous, fairly well shaped, and with fair branching and fair foliage. Any plant not meeting the above standards is a Florida No. 3. The lower the grade when purchased the less chance the plant has of being a good one at maturity.

Often plants are not tagged as to grade, and they should be inspected closely. Do not purchase plants with an unhealthy appearance or with weak, poorly formed, scarred, cracked or peeling trunks and branches. Poorly distributed branches usually lead to "leggy" plants and should be avoided. Leaves of abnormal size or excessive yellowing are an indication of a plant health problem. These plants should be examined for insects, diseases and mechanical damage.

The root system of a container grown plant should be well established, however, the plant should not be root-bound. Roots should be distributed throughout the soil and not protruding outside the container or penetrating into the ground.

High quality plants suited to your particular site will be easier to maintain and will provide beauty and enjoyment for years to come.

Nails in early America were hammered out by hand on an anvil.

The Mills...

1980 Farm Family of the Year!

If you hear peacocks holler and see them strut proudly and protectively in front of an airy, brown ranch house out Flaghole Road near Clewiston, you'll know you're at the E. C. Mills' place.

The peacocks are only an introduction to the assortment of animals — dogs, cats, chickens but mostly beef cattle — that are Addie and Eugene, Sr.'s love and livelihood.

And their Flaghole Road ranch is only the beginning of acres and acres of hammocked pasture land in The Devil's Garden region that figures into the Mills' cattle operation, plus more acres of citrus groves blooming on the banks of the Caloosahatchee River.

Cattle and citrus were the winning combination for Addie's father as he expanded his father's 20-acre farm homestead in the Fort Denaud area into a prospering ranching operation.

It was around the Great Depression that sections of land could be acquired from the state and made to produce through long hours of unthinkably hard work.

The Crews family worked side-by-side with Hendrys, Lykes, Roberts, Badcocks and other ranchers who were acquiring land, establishing herds on open ranges, and settling early Florida.

In those days, education was very localized. Addie Crews attended a two-room schoolhouse through the lower grades, before being bused into LaBelle for high school.

About then, Daugherty Construction Company was building the road from Fort Myers to Clewiston. A young man named Eugene Mills, whose family moved down to cracker country from Georgia, was on the construction gang.

Addie and Eugene met, married, and soon moved to Clewiston where Gene's interest in machinery repair landed him a job with U.S. Sugar Corporation as a mechanic.

From those humble beginnings his knowledge, skill, and dedication took him on trips to Hawaii and to other cane growing countries, and finally to the seat of Vice-President in Charge of Agricultural Equipment for East and West Divisions of U.S. Sugar Corporation.

Slowly but surely during those sugar years the Mills began investing in cattle and a ranch of their own.

They cut pine and ran a saw mill to clear the Flaghole Road ranch, and eventually left their Clewiston town home of many years to live in the country. Many of the Crews' holdings became their responsibility when Addie's father passed on in 1950.

Since his retirement from U.S. Sugar, Eugene has been a cattleman full-time, with Addie by his side active, alert, and interested in every phase of ranching and farming.

Politicians know her outspoken views on water pollution, flood zone regulations, land zoning and anything else affecting ranching and rural life.

You can find her out mowing and trimming the citrus groves on her tractor or jumping ditches on the range in her little yellow Jeep, even though she has six or seven decades under her hat.

Ranches and groves are third-and-fourth-generation business for the Mills family, with Addie and Eugene's two sons following family traditions.

Gene junior inherited his daddy's talent for working with machines and went to work for Pratt-Whitney after college. Then U.S. Sugar tapped him to fill Gene senior's position when he retired.

Gene, Jr. and his wife Phyllis live in Addie and Eugene, Sr.'s tastefully remodeled home in Clewiston that began in the 1930's as a sugar company house.

Their two sons, Gene III and Jay, have accompanied the family for weekend work on the ranch and developed their own interests as well.

Jay Mills rides the range in a different way — in motorcycle "motocross" races. His skill has earned him shelves full of trophies and an invitation to ride at the Houston Astrodome.

Gene III goes to college at Tampa and works part-time at Hydraulics, Inc. He's ridden a horse since he was a preschooler and cowboys at the ranch when he comes home.

Solon "Bubba" Mills considered a military career and then one in dentistry before deciding that the diversity and satisfaction of ranch work is where his heart belongs.

He and his wife Peggy live a few miles from the original Crews homestead near LaBelle in an architecturally unique home whose windwalls look over family citrus groves.

Their thirteen-year-old son Crews is as outdoors as the day is long. He loves to hunt and is his grandmother's frequent companion on ranch and grove chores.

The Mills "family" doesn't stop there. They consider their ranch hands almost relatives, too. They are sons of the men who have worked with Crews and Mills families through almost 100 years.

The warm-hearted, "welcome neighbor"

attitude of Addie, Eugene, Bubba, Peggy, Phyllis and Gene, Jr. make even the casual visitor feel akin and comfortable, and is no doubt why, in addition to their cattle savvy, their friends and admirers have named them Hendry County Farm Family of 1980.

IN TOWN Jay, Phyllis, and Gene, Jr. carry on the Mills name in the sugar industry. Gene is Vice President of Equipment for U.S. Sugar, a position his father once held.

AT THE GROVES of the Mills' citrus acres near LaBelle are Crews, 13, and his mother Peggy. They are the family of Solon "Bubba" Mills.

Fair to be Dedicated Posthumously to

T.H. "Tom" Jones, Jr. "A Community Leader"

The directors of the Hendry County Fair and Livestock Show, Inc. have voted unanimously to dedicate the 1980 fair and livestock show posthumously to T.H. "Tom" Jones, Jr.

Mr. Jones passed away unexpectedly November 15, 1979. He was the senior member of the Clewiston City Commission in years of service (25) and had been a resident of Clewiston for the past 34 years. He was director of real estate for United States Sugar Corporation and a registered real estate broker and property appraiser.

Jones came to Clewiston following World War Two, during which he had served in the U.S. Navy. He was a member and past commander of the Clewiston American Legion Post.

A graduate of the University of Florida School of Agriculture, he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

He was a member and past president of the Clewiston Lions Club and of the Chamber of Commerce.

During his residence in Hendry County, he was active in virtually every improvement project in one capacity or another. The 1979 "Sugar Bowl" was dedicated to him as an avid sportsman.

He was a deacon of the First Baptist Church of Clewiston.

A native of Frankfort, Ky., Jones resided at 325 East Del Monte Ave.
